

2. Opening step

Bookstores and body-near services

The second opening step is scheduled from March 8. Bookstores, florists and garden centers are classified as daily necessities retailers. They can therefore also reopen with appropriate hygiene concepts and a limit on the number of customers. Provided is one customer per 10 square meters for the first 800 square meters of retail area and another for each additional 20 square meters of retail area.

Also from March 8, the previously still closed near-body service businesses and driving and flying schools can reopen with appropriate hygiene concepts. For services where a mask cannot be worn permanently (such as cosmetics or shaving), a daily negative Covid-19 quick or self-test of the customer and a testing concept for the staff are prerequisites.
